

Identifying Correct Antonym Pair Part 2

Circle the pair of antonyms in the sentence

1. Whether it was accidental or purposeful, I don't care.
2. Active people are rarely idle.
3. In life, you have to take the bitter with the sweet.
4. No sound was audible in the silent room.
5. Armand can seem sensitive one moment and unfeeling the next.
6. I was restless for hours before I finally became sleepy.
7. When sanding, start with coarse sandpaper, and then switch to fine.
8. Sometimes, boredom can turn into excitement in no time.
9. What started as a narrow crevice grew into a wide canyon.
10. Would you like separate checks, or should I put it all together?